Posted Reports & Supplemental Docs contain records up to the cut off time, prior to the start of the meeting, for processing new submittals. The final official record containing handouts, PowerPoints, etc. can be obtained through a Records Request to the City Clerk's Office.

Greg Wade, City Manager, introduced the item.

Rosemary Linden spoke about Measure B, which residents voted against to prevent the building of a 77,000 square foot facility in a residential area with safety hazards, obstruction of views, and increased traffic. She said the majority of voters not wanting large scale or higher density developments in their residential neighborhoods that endanger property values and safety.

Perry Sexton spoke about community members campaigning against Measure B, not being allowed to speak at the meetings of the developer, the City Council not stopping the project before it got to a vote, and a request that the City protect its citizens.

Johanna Canlas, City Attorney, said that this was a citizen initiative triggering the use of Prop T, that any increase in density required a vote of the people, that the California

Elections Code would not allow Council to deny an election, that the initiative qualified for the ballot if the requirements were met, the City could not engage in campaigning, and that the applicants (developers) were required to host meetings on their project to engage public participation in order to comply with the City's requirements.

Council spoke about the community's involvement, the City's role in citizen initiatives, the Council's options of approving an initiative proposal or sending it to the voters, Councilmembers' attendance at the developers public meetings, Proposition T being put on the ballot in the past to prevent land use designations from changing without a vote of the people, that Council taking any position on the initiative would create conflicts if the final project eventually came before them for consideration, this project needed to be treated no differently than any other project in the City, that the issue of the initiative was the zoning change and not the final project, and that the municipal code required that the developer pay for a special election if they did not elect to wait for a general election.

Motion: Moved by Councilmember Becker and second by Councilmember Harless to approve. Approved 5/0. Motion carried unanimously.

Item A.11. Supplemental Docs \(Updated 6-12 at 5:30pm\)

Posted Reports & Supplemental Docs contain records up to the cut off time, prior to the start of the meeting, for processing new submittals. The final official record containing handouts, PowerPoints, etc. can be obtained through a Records Request to the City Clerk's Office.

Greg Wade, City Manager, introduced the item.

Torgen Johnson (time donated by Cindi Clemons) said he was part of the Mike Levin task force and spoke about his involvement and the City's support for public safety since 2011, the need for a stronger resolution to outline the reality of the problem, the resolution's reference to inspection was not helpful because experts had said the current casks could not be opened once they are loaded, they cannot be inspected or repaired, the loading of the canisters created further damage leading to container cracking, corrosion, and failure, the defective engineering of steam generators nearly resulting in a serious accident, and the need for stronger language in the resolution to ensure loading did not continue and that an appropriate plan be implemented.

Council and Mr. Johnson discussed the thick-wall storage casks that were available and survived the Fukushima disaster, that the cracks were due to a chemical process resulting from scraping and exposure to the salt air, the NRC (Nuclear Regulatory Commission) licensed the system without vetting it properly, the movement of thick-walled canisters requiring sitting and then moving carefully, experts stating it could not be moved and would be there for many decades, aiming to moving them away from the shoreline, the most important issue being the containment of the radioactive waste, some inherent danger in the transferring of the contents from thin-walled to thick-walled canisters, the unknowns of transferring the material between containers that had not been attempted before, that thin-walled require convection cooling, and the potential for a Chernobyl like disaster.

Dave Clemons spoke about a former NRC administrative judge disclosing that these nuclear waste canisters were vulnerable to stress corrosion cracking, which was not known to the industry 20 years ago when the NRC licensed their use, the problem was due to the inability to detect or repair cracks, the need to advocate for robust thick-walled casks to replace the thin-walled casks currently used, support for an alternative nuclear waste storage site that would not be within 108 ft. of the Pacific ocean, and request that the third bullet point in the resolution be expanded to proactively address the immediate use of thick-walled casks.

Donald Mosier, serving on Mike Levin's' taskforce, said that he testified before Congress when the facility was shut down because of the failure of the steam generators and organized an NRC meeting to accomplish the shutdown, that San Onofre was in the process of beginning the loading of canisters on June 24th, that loading should not restart since the move would place the canisters in a new place to cool for two years without an option to move them elsewhere, and to advocate for no more fuel loading until a better plan was formed to allow thick-walled canisters to monitor pressure and could be unpacked.

Cathy Iwane, Del Mar resident, said that she was a translator for the Japanese Prime Minister during his visit, that she raised her family in Japan and had witnessed triple meltdowns, the need for stronger language in the resolution regarding the cask canisters used to store the waste, that at least one canister was severally gouged due to technical difficulty in loading and unloading, the canisters' vulnerability to cracking and possible hydrogen explosions, that the thick-walled casks were now commercially available, and that the thicker walls proved to be unscathed in Fukushima.

Council discussed adding language regarding a system that was documented to work, adopting future resolutions as new information becomes known, the sense of urgency, that there were respected experts in support of thick-walled canisters as well as those who did not think it was a viable path forward, and to request that they stop this system that is broken.

Council and Mr. Johnson discussed that there were no procedures for dropped canisters, request that the system be reassessed, to add language to stop loading and come back to add additional resolutions, alert them that the public is watching, obtaining additional opinions for alternative options, and concerns about support for something that has never been done before.

Councilmember Hegenauer stated that she would not support a simpler option at this time, that the language should be 'don't reload' without making sure there are stronger canisters, and her support for the use of Torgen's recommended language.

Council discussed adding stronger language, obtaining a recommendation from Mike Levin's technical team, an article that stated there were no federally approved cask for high burn, the risk of transferring material from thin-walled to thick-walled canisters without any assurance that it would work or be safe,

Council and Mr. Johnson discussed that some current language was meaningless, the risk of moving forward with stopping the process while more study is done to see any problems that might arise from the transfer, that safety was an issue with the current loading and reloading, that the first bullet points could not be accomplished to accurately reflect the issues, concerns about the unknowns, and recommending a directive to transition to the thick-walled canisters without knowing if it would be safe and successful.

Council and Mr. Mosier discussed passing a resolution now to stop the loading and coming back with stronger language later, the critical need to stop the reloading, the technical issues of the casks that had already been loaded was a difficult issue to address, and the safest thing to do immediately would be to stop the reloading.

Motion: Moved by Deputy Mayor Edson and second by Mayor Zito to approve with modified language to cease and don't restart loading into the existing canisters until with the safety requirements outlined can be met by a new system. Approved 4/1 (Noes: Hegenauer). Motion carried.

Alicia Canales Rodriguez spoke about parking issues, narrowing cars passing each other in opposite directions, the opposite side of the street was always filled with parked cars, the garbage truck having to blast its horn waiting for someone to move a car so they could complete the trash collecting, the most important issue being emergency vehicle access, and designating some relief.

Lisa Montes spoke about developers focused on making money on redevelopment of homes that changed the character of the area, parking being a critical issue for La Colonia, mail not being delivered because vehicles blocked mailboxes, and the many story poles erected in La Colonia.

Rich Villasenor spoke about the issue of parking, many small homes being replaced with condos and multi-family structures without adequate parking, street parking was further restricted by narrow roads, concerns about passing of trucks and safety vehicles, using garages for parking and not storage, sidewalks being used for parking restricting the use of the sidewalk, setbacks for privacy and quality of life, maintaining the character of Eden Gardens, require a mix of landscape so that all yards were not concrete, reducing structure height limits from 30 ft. to 25 ft., the addition of second stories should require some articulation, and maintaining the character, history and culture of the area.

Danny Hernandez (time donated by Tonya Hernandez) spoke about parking issues, rezoning, opposition to four houses on one lot, preserving the history was important for many generations remaining in the area, lack of parking for visitors to his home and having to park several blocks away, and preserving the past in this area.

Council discussed the difficulty of parking for visitors, the narrow streets and concern for emergency vehicle access, opportunities to widen streets, increase offsite parking to relieve on-street parking, vertical curbs restricting parking on sidewalks, land use development restrictions, maintain the public right-of-way, looking at various creative solutions, working with the neighborhood to identify concerns and ideas, much construction had been built to the edge of allowable areas, lack of parking for Baker Iron Works and La Colonia Community Center, specifying setbacks for mixed-use projects, conditioning new projects to use garages for parking and not storage, an overlay zone, determining the history of Eden Gardens area and to determine what should be preserved and included in regulations, and establishing the boundaries of an overlay zone.
